Frances E. Willard and Lady Somerset wanted the platform to contain a provision in the interests of temperance.

John H. Heyo and John T. Chapman, of Albany, appeared and asked that the colored members-at-large of the Republican State Committee be elected by the convention instead of being selected by the State Committee.

A committee from the Republican State League, consisting of George Forsythe and H. H. Remondino, were heard on the question of a League convention favoring a plank in the platform amending the law relative to primary elections.

COMPLETING THE TICKET.

SAXTON FOR LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR.

HAIGHT FOR COURT OF APPEALS.

MR. SAXTON HAD 347 VOTES ON THE FIRST BALLOT, AND THEN ST. LAWRENCE AND LUTHER SWUNG OVER A LONG LIST OF CANDIDATES—HIS NOMINATION MADE UNANIMOUS.

Saratoga, Sept. 18.—The delegates were not all able to get their supper promptly, so the convention was late in beginning the evening session. The persons who gathered early passed the time in singing "Sweet Marie," "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp," "The Bowery," and "We Won't Go Home Till Morning." The last was given with special gusto, for it looked as if that sentiment was a peculiarly appropriate one. To cut short the session it was resolved, after the convention had come to order, that nominating speeches be limited to ten minutes each, and that those second nominating speeches be not longer than three minutes each.

A. S. WOOD NOMINATES SENATOR SAXTON.

Anson S. Wood, ex-Deputy-Secretary of State, placed before the convention the name of State Senator Charles T. Saxton, of Wayne, for the Lieutenant-Governorship. Mr. Wood's speech was as follows:

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Convention: The never was a time in the history of the Republican party of this State when so many worthy and able men were seeking a place upon its State ticket, nor when the party was so full of confidence and sure of certain victory. In this general time of rejoicing over the brilliant prospects of Republican success, there is no occasion for doubt or the slightest hesitancy. The party is in the hands of the ablest and the most energetic leaders it has ever had. The party is in the hands of the ablest and the most energetic leaders it has ever had.

Mr. Chairman and gentlemen, it seems to me we have reached a stage in our deliberations when we should turn our attention to the selection of a candidate for the office of Lieutenant-Governor. The party is in the hands of the ablest and the most energetic leaders it has ever had. The party is in the hands of the ablest and the most energetic leaders it has ever had.

On behalf of the united delegation from the always Republican county of Wayne, I desire to place in nomination for the office of Lieutenant-Governor, Charles T. Saxton, of Wayne.

Mr. Saxton is a distinguished citizen of that county, whose name alone will be accepted as sufficient guarantee for the office of Lieutenant-Governor. He is a man of high character, of high ability, and of high standing in the community.

from this place in nomination men who will secure the confidence of the people, regardless of everything but the welfare of the State. His work for the people has already known. We should remember that the candidate for the office of Lieutenant-Governor is not only the office of Lieutenant-Governor, but also the office of Governor. He bears a distinguished name, and his present standing in the community is a guarantee for the office of Governor.

OTHER CANDIDATES NOMINATED.

Senator Edmund O'Connor offered the name of Mayor George E. Green, of Binghamton. He said that Mr. Green was a Republican 35 days of the year, and continued in that position.

In 1882, when the other counties stumbled in rolling up their names, the county of Sullivan stood out with an increased vote. There were 7,000 commercial travelers asking for Mr. Green's name, and he was elected. He was a man of high character, of high ability, and of high standing in the community.

for a united and triumphant party. Whatever you may determine our ranks will remain unbroken. The Republican cause, and the cause of the people, are one and the same. We are all for the same thing, and we will stand by each other to the end.

The room contained a large number of men, and the speeches were vigorously applauded. In executive session, the committee decided against the contestants, and so reported to the convention.

THE PLATFORM ADOPTED.

ISSUES IN NATION AND STATE UPON WHICH THE REPUBLICAN PARTY APPEALS TO THE PEOPLE.

Saratoga, Sept. 18.—The platform adopted by the Committee on Resolutions was submitted to the Convention by Congressman Seneca E. Payne. It is as follows:

The Republicans of New-York, in convention assembled, do hereby declare their adherence to the principles of the Republican party, and their opposition to the policies of the Democratic party.

The Democratic President of the United States, and the Democratic Congress, have failed to protect the interests of the people, and have allowed the country to be governed by a corrupt and dishonest administration.

The Democratic party has failed to protect the interests of the people, and has allowed the country to be governed by a corrupt and dishonest administration.

SKETCHES OF THE NOMINEES.

LEVI P. MORTON.

Levi Parsons Morton, the Republican candidate for Governor, was born in Shoreham, Vt., on May 15, 1824. His father was the Rev. Daniel O. Morton, a Congregational minister and a liberal descendant of George Morton, who came to this country from England in the ship Ann in 1623.

Mr. Morton received only 800 salary a year, and therefore could give his son only a common school education. The boy early left school and began his business life as a clerk in a General Store, N. H. dry goods store, but not until his constitution, physical and mental, had been shattered by the heat of house industry. When twenty-one he set up in business for himself, opening a dry goods store in Concord.

His successful career as a banker. Mr. Morton, not in the least discouraged, established a banking house in 1863. He made money rapidly, and soon attained prominence in financial circles. One day the late creditors of the firm of Morton & Grinnell received an invitation from Mr. Morton to dine with him. When they sat down at dinner each man found beneath his plate a check signed by Mr. Morton for an amount of money that would pay the debt of the firm.

consider favorably the proposition to make such changes in it as would more effectually prevent the sale of oleomargarine for natural butter in the future.

HIS CITY HOME.

Mr. Morton's home in this city, at No. 8 Fifth-ave., is a large brownstone house, with a large double garage and a broad hall running through the centre to a dining-room at the back. On the wall of the hall to the right one sees an excellent portrait of President Garfield; while on the left is one of Benjamin Constant's famous oil-paintings, representing the interior of an Oriental dwelling. The house is a beautiful one, and its surroundings are equally so.

SENATOR BRICE IS EXPECTED TO CONTROL THE STATE CONVENTION, BUT HE WILL MEET WITH STRONG OPPOSITION.

BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 18.—The quality of harmony in the Democratic State Convention, which began this morning, promises to be a very successful one.

Mr. Johnson, the famous Free Trader and Single Tax advocate, who arrived from his home in Cleveland this evening, says: "We are all down on Brice." Being down on Brice, Tom L. and his friends have established headquarters in the Nell House, where they will deal out anti-Brice ammunition until the convention meets to-morrow morning. But Mr. Brice is not getting lost in the shuffle. He came to Columbus from his New-York home on an early afternoon train, and at once established headquarters at the hotel in which Tom Johnson has pitched his tent. He was confident that he would meet with opposition to his nomination, but he was not prepared for the success which has attended him.
